Hello, My Name is Henry Merklein

1. I told my roommates that I don't like Alcohol and the first thing they did was hold a drinking party.
2. They were having it on Thursday night which was super convenient for me because it's not like I have a class on Friday morning or anything.
3. My Roommate Matt told me not to worry because it wasn't going to be That Kind Of Party and then he winked at me. I was terrified.

The party started at 9pm.

4. Everyone was holding a red cup and all the girls were holding a hand over their red cup.
5. I wanted to get to bed by 9 30 and so my neighbor, His name was Jay, He's 2 floors down, He let me sleep there tongiht. I went in, curled up on their bed. Closed my eyes. But there was one problem. I could still hear the party from two floors up. (Bdum, Bdum, Bdum, Bdum)
6. I don't know why they were making so much noise, After all, It wasn't That Type Of Party.

So I powered through it. And just as I was starting to fall asleep, Jay came back to the room.

7. Now lemme tell you about Jay. He is like a really life Fat Albert. But he can't hold his Liquor. So he comes back in the room and goes Hey Hey HHHHUUUURGGGG!
8. I love falling asleep to someone throwing up.
9. … Just, getting that Kavanagh experience I guess.
10. After Jay had finished throwing up he decided to have sex with his girlfriend. On the bed right next to me.
11. I've had more peaceful nights listening to my parents fight.
12. So I returned to my room in the morning. I really wanted to know what type of party happened last night, because i started finding some shit.
13. There was a chalk outline of a person on the floor, I don't know what that was.
14. Someone at the party decided to redecorate because there was a giant swastika spray painted on the wall.
15. One thing I am kind of proud of, we beat Jeffrey Dahmer's record for most unsanitary fridge.
16. Every single bottle of alcohol had been graciously deposited on my desk.
17. That way, when the Police show up, They'll know for sure that I'm The Functioning Alcoholic.
18. And then I made the mistake of putting my hand on my desk. And holy shit, it was the stickiest substance on earth.
19. I don't even want to think about all the Cum and Semen that it was coated with, because after all, It Wasn't That Kind Of Party.
